

Star Diagram

Star Diagrams are useful for organizing information related to a single concept, idea or item. It is very helpful in listing and representing various factors that contribute to or emanate from a central activity or idea.

Note: You may use text boxes to insert information into the template.